Subject: Re: Bus Shelters/Benches

Hi Jim,

Outfront JC Decaux went out and surveyed the site shortly after our conversation in mid-January and determined that we can fit a shelter over on that NE corner of Santa Monica and Highland, so a "Site Pre-Approval Form" was prepared and forwarded to CD-4 for its sign-off/approval on/around January 26.

We're still waiting for the signed document to be returned to us to continue on with the site approval process at this juncture. Once we receive the signed off form from CD-4, we then have to go through the rest of the steps of our site approval process before we can provide Outfront JC Decaux with a "Notice to Proceed" for site permits. I'm not sure if you recall but our Program's site approval process for new furniture is lengthy and typically takes upwards of 6 months or more (I'm attaching a flow chart that gives you an idea of how convoluted that mandated process is).

Once we obtain the approvals and permit for this site, it then gets added to our queue for shelter requests. Outfront JC Decaux stopped the roll-out of new furniture back in 2008. Since then, we've been relying upon shelters displaced by construction activities or bus route changes to provide/install shelters at requested locations waiting in our queue. Over the last few years, Outfront JC Decaux has been building/installing 12 to 20 new shelters per year so that's been another option that's been helping us address the back-log in our shelter request queue. Bottom line is that I can't really predict how or when we might be able to supply that site with a new shelter once we obtain our permits for it, but we'll continue to pursue an installation as the opportunities present themselves.

If I hear of any further updates on this request, I'll circle back with you and provide you with the latest and greatest.

Take care and I'll talk to you soon.....

Sincerely,

Hey there Jim (& Lisa),

Great to hear from you. It's been a long time.

I know we've looked at that corner before and there's a reason why it's absent of any furniture but I can't recall exactly why off the top of my head. We worked with LADOT on the light green, kind of curvy furniture you see out there that is now being maintained by the BID, and we placed the silver transit shelters you see elsewhere around Santa Monica and Highland/Vine as a part of the same project. Let us take a look at it and get back to you.

If you have any further questions about the City's transit furniture programs, feel free to reach out to myself or my associates Sergio Samayoa and Mike Ahmadi at any time.

Sincerely,

Lance, this is Jim Omahen here! You may remember me from years gone by when I worked for then Councilmember Garcetti . . . and Kathy Cerra and I were working on a Glendale Blvd. Streetscape Plan for Atwater Village. I'm sure I had thanked you, but will again. You were the best!

I'm now working for the Hollywood Media District BID as Operations Manager. Lisa Schechter is our Executive Director.

Michael Turner referred us to you regarding our wish to have a bus shelter installed at a bus stop on the northeast corner of Santa Monica Blvd. and N. Highland Ave. Can you advise? Thanks again!
